Once upon a time, there was a beautiful and kind hearted poor girl Lilly who was living alone with 5 years old brother John. She lost her parents when she was 10 years old. After that her uncle took them to his home. Their uncle had 3 daughters and 1 son. They were going to private school and getting better education while Lilly and John were treated at servant home, because they were orphans. Lilly was going through a lot of difficulties because she was worried about her brother future so she decided to find a job to help her brother. One day Lilly said to her uncle “I think that my brother needed a better education now just like your children and for that I must do some job outside.” Her uncle got angry first but then said if you’re going to work, then you have gave me half of your salary. She agreed and started working. After that a few days, she met a handsome and generous boy Alex. Alex really live Lilly and he wanted to marry her, but unfortunately she refused to marry him because Lilly was thinking, if she got married, her brother would be alone. However John graduated and became a doctor. Now they have their own house and live together. Finally Lilly and Alex also got married and live happily.

The moral of the story is to be patient if you are going through a lot of hardships in life.
If patient is bitter, it’s fruit will be sweet.