Jane is a young adult, she’s 18, she’s from Czech Republic and this story is about her life.

Her childhood was very poor and nobody liked her even her family didn’t like her, and she was bullied at school and she was always alone, no one believed that she could prove something in her life, nobody liked her because she wasn’t wearing branded clothes and she was poor and if people didn’t believe her at school or at home.

So it’s like everybody closed the door on her way to her dream, but Jane never gave up and wanted to prove something in her life. She always followed her dreams, and always went her own way even if no one believed her. When she was 18 years old, she moved to New York and started making music. She worked too hard to push through, wanted to live better life than before and her motivation was how she lived when she was a child but never gave up and wanted to make her dream real.

Jane found a job in a restaurant and wanted to save herself to pay for the studio. She always wrote her songs after work. She went to the studio and started recording songs and working on her album, then the producer came in and loved her, told her he wanted to help her but Jane didn’t believe him, so she was afraid of him. The next day after work, she went back to the studio and started working on her album again. The producer came back and showed her that she could trust him.

He told her to leave her work in the restaurant and start making music and she accepted it and started working together. She had an album done in a week and wanted to put it on the internet and sell it, but Jane didn’t believe herself she was so scared. After 3 days her album spotted over 100,000 people and she was really happy and the producer said that if you start making live shows around the world you will become more famous. The first concern was too stressful for her to worry that it can go wrong but then she went on stage and gave a great performance.
