The New House

Baraa Ahmed
It was a beautiful sunny day, when Biftu, and Haile a couple living in London decided to buy a house.

Haile, and Biftu wanted to make a family, and their old house was too small, and they couldn’t fit a family, so they started to search for a house in the city of London. They found one in east London.

They were happy because they found the house of their dream. The house was big with a beautiful garden. Haile, and Biftu bought the house, and started to move to their new house.

After a few days later, Biftu and Haile decided to go shopping for house stuff.

The weather was very bad. It was a rainy dark day. There was a heavy rain and wind.

While they were on their way to the shop, they had a car accident. The ambulance took them to the hospital.

Haile survived this serious accident, but Biftu was in a very bad condition.
Biftu was in a coma. After fighting for months, Biftu, passed away. The new house became Haile’s nightmare. Haile couldn’t handle the news. Haile was in a very bad psychological state. Life became meaningless for, her Haile after Biftu’s death. Haile committed suicide in order to join the love of his love.

Biftu, and Haile were a good couple.
This story is about an adorable couple who lived in London and were looking for a new house, in order to build a family.